Bills Seek 4-Yr. Term For Leaders

Two bills seeking constitutional amendments permitting the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected as a team for 4-year terms were introduced Friday in the Legislature.

The measures were among 14 bills tossed into the hopper during the 4th legislative day.

A total of 110 bills now await the Legislature's consideration.

LB101 provides that the 4-year term for governor and lieutenant governor become effective in 1966.

It was introduced by Sens. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, George Gerdes of Alliance, H. K. Diers of Gresham and Willard Waldo of DeWitt.

LB105, introduced by Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, provides for election in 1964.

Senate Change Proposed

Another measure providing for election of state senators to 4-year terms also reached the hopper.

The bill, LB111, was introduced by Sens. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, Edwin McHugh of Murdock and Jules Burbach of Crofton.

A similar measure, LB96, was introduced Thursday.

LB79, introduced by Sen. William Skarda of Omaha, provides for breath or saliva tests to determine intoxication under the state's implied consent law.

The statute, approved by the 1959 Legislature, presently provides that any person who operates a motor vehicle shall be considered to have given consent to submit to blood or urine tests.

Budget Bills Move
Two budget bills were moved to general file without a public hearing.

LB102 appropriates $42,000 to compensate bill drafters, legal researchers, correlation clerk, stenographers and proof readers of the current session.

LB103 appropriates $213,180 for salaries for state senators.

Another budget measure, LB106, would appropriate $180,000 for payment to officers and employees of the Legislature.

Lawmakers will convene again Monday at 10 a.m.

Workhorses Put To Pasture

There comes a time when everyone and everything reaches a point where productive value has ended.

In this category are two aircraft now at Lincoln Air Force Base. Having flown their last hour, they are waiting for final inspection before being turned over to a crash recovery team and maintenance men to be stripped of critical parts.

Both have won acclaim in their own right. The oldest, is the C-47 or DC-3 better known in the military as the "Gooney Bird." The other is the huge 6-jet engine B-47 medium bomber, recognized as being on active duty as a front line aircraft longer than any other aircraft ever flown in the Air Force.

These two aviation romanticists are to be parked eventually at a strategic spot on the air base as museum items. They will be located so the public can view them from the highway or on guided tours.

The C-47 transport was first introduced to the public in 1936. More than 10,000 Gooneys had been built when production stopped in 1946, but parts are still supplied world-wide.

In 1943 when Allied forces invaded Europe, some 1200 C-47's flew 4 abreast in a column 200 miles long. The plane towed gliders and parachutists to newly-taken beachheads then.

The long swept-back B-47 bomber has had a shorter life than the fading C-47 but just as colorful. Military strategists state the Stratojet has been a key factor in discouraging any would-be aggressor in recent years.

Non-Stop

The B-47 is capable of flying non-stop longer than the physical endurance of its crew due to in-flight refueling.

Recently the Air Force announced there would be a gradual reduction in the inventory of the B-47, which was delivered to Strategic Air Command initially in 1951. This phasing out will enable the B-58 "Hustler" to replace the B-47 without creating a weak spot in the nation's defense.

The display planned for the two aircraft will eventually include a KC-97 tanker and T-33 jet trainer. The tentative plans are to have these 4 planes on display by early summer.

RUSK BRIEFS JFK

$10 Billion Aid-To-Schools Program Is Proposed

Washington (UPI) — Secretary of State-designate Dean Rusk gave President-elect John F. Kennedy a 90-minute briefing Friday night on the world situation, including the crises in Cuba and Laos.

"Mr. Rusk brought me up to date on matters of foreign policy affecting the transition (in administration)," Kennedy told newsmen after the conference at his Georgetown home.

Asked whether the matters included this country's diplomatic break with Cuba and the fighting in Laos, the president-elect nodded and said: "The whole spectrum of foreign affairs."

Some Decisions Made
He said they also "reached some decisions" on appointments to high posts in the State Department, which Rusk will take over Jan. 20.

The president-elect flew here after a special task force presented him with a report recommending that the federal government spend $10 billion on aid to education over the coming 4 years.

More Traveling
Kennedy told reporters that after an overnight stay here he will be in New York through Sunday, in Boston Monday, and back in Washington Tuesday for another meeting with Rusk and a conference with outgoing Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson.

Kennedy flew here from New York for the talk with Rusk, arriving at 5:53 p.m. EST. He and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson went directly to the Kennedy home where Rusk was waiting.

Rusk has an office in the State Department, and has been in close touch with the Eisenhower administration's latest actions regarding both Cuba and troubled Laos.

A small crowd waved and cheered as the president-elect arrived at his home. He waved, smiled and commented: "It's a lot warmer up here this time."

Before leaving New York, Kennedy was presented with a report recommending $10 billion in federal outlays over 4 years to assist education.

Under the program, local authorities would get at least $30 a year for every child in U.S. public schools.

Say Assistance Needed

The report, prepared by Kennedy's advisers, said federal assistance is needed because state and local governments cannot do the job alone. It said first priority should be given to a vigorous program to lift elementary, high school and college education "to a new level of excellence."

Kennedy was pictured as feeling the report merited support from Congress and the public.

With just two weeks left before inauguration, Kennedy has been preoccupied absorbing reports on the many problems which will confront him the minute he takes office.

Thursday it was a report on economic conditions, suggesting a tax cut if necessary to fight the recession. Friday it was the paper on federal aid to education, presented by a task force headed by Dr. Frederick Hovde, president of Purdue University.

This report is intended as a guide for possible action when the new administration takes office. Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, who will be secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Kennedy feels the nation must move ahead in the educational field.

According to Ribicoff, Kennedy felt the program presented to him should receive great support and attention by Congress as well as the public.

Main Recommendations
There were 5 main recommendations in the report:

—An annual $1.5 billion program for 4 years which would provide $30 a year per pupil, based on average daily attendance in public schools. Money would be sent to the states, who would turn it over to local school boards. The boards then would use the funds for construction, salaries, or other purposes related to the improvement of education.

—A $100 million program which would provide $20 a child per year for states which have a personal income per student that is below 70% of the national average. Roughly one-quarter of the states, mostly in the South, might benefit from this legislation, which would help approximately 7 million children.

—A $120 million program to provide $30 a child per year, in big city schools which are facing "unique and grave education problems."

Local Boards of Education would apply for such grants.

—A $500 million program of additional loans and grants to accommodate one million new college and university students in the next 5 years.

—A $150 million increase in the college housing loan program, plus a 4-year loan authorization program of $1.4 billion over a 4-year period to permit colleges and universities to plan ahead.

City Would Net About $735,000

On the basis of the proposed $30 per pupil, allowance, the Lincoln Public Schools would net approximately $735,000 annually under the Federal Education Assistance Program, if adopted, according to Supt. Steven Watkins.

The present Lincoln School enrollment is 24,500. The $30 per pupil would supply nearly 8% of the estimated $390 per pupil cost in the Lincoln Schools.

Both Watkins and State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker indicated they would want to know more about the proposal and its stipulations before making a statement regarding it.

However, Decker stated that if federal aid to education were to be enacted, the per pupil basis as stated in the recommendation, with the use to be determined by the schools, would be "the best way."

Nebraska would net approximately $8.5 million annually from the program, Decker said.

U.S. Challenges Russia To Slice Travel Curbs

Washington (UPI) — The United States challenged Russia Friday to agree to the abolition or reduction of travel curbs within the two countries as a major step toward easing East-West suspicions and tensions.

It made the proposal in suggesting an early Soviet-American conference to tackle the problem. Each country now prohibits nationals of the other from entering certain forbidden areas.

At the same time, the State Department announced changes in the areas of the United States which are closed to the Russians. The aim was to balance off new barriers on U.S. travel imposed by the Soviet Union in August, 1959.

Cities Closed
Among the major changes announced was the closing to Soviet nationals and officials the cities of St. Louis, Houston, Phoenix, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, and Wichita, Kan.

Some major cities previously closed to the Russians were reopened. They were San Francisco, Brooklyn, Newark, N.J.; Columbus and Canton, Ohio; St. Paul, Minn.; Seattle, Wash.; Providence, R.I., and Syracuse, N.Y.

The rejuggling, which involved hundreds of U.S. counties, was part of a tit-for-tat process by which the United States seeks to close exactly as much of its territory to Russians as the Soviet ets make off limits to Americans.

This means Russians are barred from 960,796 square miles of U.S. territory while 2,289,000 square miles of Russia is closed to U.S. citizens.

Urge Meeting

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in a note to Soviet ambassador Mikhail A. Men-shikov urging a conference on the question, called on Russia to practice what it preaches.

He said that despite the Kremlin's professed willingness to discuss reducing the closed areas, it has "remained unwilling to discuss the abolition or reduction of its impediments to free travel."

The U.S. note also charged the Russians with adding materially to the officially closed areas by "temporarily" sealing off additional regions from time to time.

Suspicious
It added that "the maintenance of the closed-area system on so large a scale can only contribute to fostering suspicions and promoting tensions."

The American note said the United States would prefer to wipe out all forbidden zones. But if Russia is not ready to agree to that, it would like a "partial easing of travel restrictions through the opening of at least some areas on a reciprocal basis."

There was no suggestion in the U.S. note as to the level at which the proposed conference should be held. It merely suggested that "representatives of the two governments meet at an early date."

Obbink Faces Rough Sailing

... UNIT WANTS FULL PROBE

By Don Walton

The appointment of Jack Obbink as state aeronautics director appeared Friday to face rough sailing in the Legislature's Committee on Committees.

Committee members generally will insist on a thorough examination of the facts leading to his dismissal by former Gov. Dwight Burney.

It seemed probable that Obbink, Burney and Gov. Frank Morrison will all be requested to appear personally before the legislative unit.

Members of the State Aeronautics Commission may also be consulted.

Twelve of the committee's 13 members told The Star they will await the results of that investigation before arriving at final decisions on the matter.

Munnely Supports
Sen. John Munnely of Omaha was the only member to say that he will definitely support Morrison's appointee.

The Committee on Committees studies gubernatorial appointments, then recommends confirmation or denial to the full Legislature.

If the committee declines to propose confirmation, the matter goes before the Legislature for a majority decision. Obbink — who returned to his office Friday — was fired by Burney last October for alleged misuse of a state aircraft.

Legal action challenging the dismissal is pending in the State Supreme Court.

Morrison, a Democrat, is expected to submit Obbink's appointment to the Legislature soon.

Might Be Trouble
If the matter assumes partisan overtones in the Committee on Committees, then Obbink may be in trouble.

Ten of the unit's members are Republicans. Three are registered Democrats.

Obbink was originally ap-

Riots Dash Quick End To Strike

Brussels, Belgium (P)—Bloody riots in the socialist stronghold of Liege Friday crushed hopes for a quick settlement of the 18-day-old Belgian strikes.

Troops and police fought 1,600 rioters in a battle of guns, sabres, tear gas and flying stones.

A government spokesman said 47 persons, including police and rioters, were injured. He said two persons were wounded by gunfire.

Police used tear gas and rifle butts to break up the riot that broke out after an orderly open-air strike meeting.

The rioters smashed windows and destroyed furniture and equipment at the central post office, the railway station and a newspaper office.

The violent outbreak came after overnight reports from socialist sources that the end of the strikes seemed near.

The walkouts were called by the socialists to protest Premier Gaston Eyskens' proposed austerity program. Opponents of the measure said it imposed one-sided burdens on the wage earner.

A cabinet source said earlier the government had decided not to make any concessions and let the strikes die out on their own.

But it was also understood

Eyskens was considering asking young King Baudouin to dissolve parliament after the austerity bill is passed and thus have new elections by spring, a year ahead of schedule.

Police tear gas broke up a smaller outbreak in Ghent. Elsewhere in the country the strikes seemed to be losing their force.

Pierre Harmel, the government spokesman, said the strikes were over in the northern province of Limburg and the southern province of Luxembourg and in two northern cities—Costende and Alost.

The big trouble center was the Liege area of the industrial south, where riots in 1950 led to the abdication of King Leopold III.

Hard-pressed Belgian soldiers fired at the ground and in the air near a new railway station after more than 1,000 rioters smashed the front of the building. Harmel said two civilians were wounded, but the Belgian state radio put the number at 6.

It was the most serious clash since the nationwide strikes began Dec. 20. It was the first time soldiers had to intervene seriously. They have been on guard at government buildings but never before have been seriously challenged by rioters.

19 Perish In San Francisco Fire

Flames Raze Pensioners' Cheap Hotel

San Francisco (AP) — Nineteen persons, mostly aged pensioners, died Friday when a pre-dawn fire in a tenant's mattress turned a cheap downtown hotel into a torch.

Nearly 40 persons were injured, two critically.

The tenant, Raymond Gorman, 62, escaped almost unharmed. He was booked by police on a charge of manslaughter.

Lt. George Kelly of the arson squad said Gorman admitted he had been drinking heavily.

Fire started in his room on the ground floor of the Thomas Hotel at 971 Mission St.

Gorman denied smoking in bed. John Saylor, who lived in a room next to Gorman, said he had almost put out a fire in Gorman's smoldering mattress minutes before the room burst into flames and the 5-story hotel blazed up like a giant torch.

It was San Francisco's worst fire in 16 years.

Flames shooting up an elevator shaft trapped tenants on the upper floors. Some jumped or slid down bedsheets. Others were rescued by policemen smashing down locked doors; by firemen wearing gas masks, or from ladders outside the smoke-filled building.

Six jumped into safety nets. One net burst into flames as a tenant hit it.

A legless man swung by his hands down a rescue ladder, an 82-year-old blind man tapped his way unhesitatingly through smoke-filled halls, and a half-paralyzed octogenarian rolled down the stairs, through the lobby and out into the cold.

Those of the 135 tenants who got out alive from the 169-room hotel shivered in 36 degree temperature in night clothes. San Francisco's coldest temperature ever was 29 degrees in 1888.

Slips From Rope

Most of the dead were trapped in their rooms. Others died fleeing the flames. Among them was James Boyer, 48, who lost his grip on a blanket rope and fell to his death in front of his wife's eyes.

San Francisco's entire Fire Department was placed on alert. Forty pieces of equipment and 200 men, nearly a fourth of the department, fought the blaze, the city's worst since 22 died in the New Amsterdam Hotel fire in 1944.

Fire Chief William Murray estimated damage at $75,000.

Gorman, who was jailed less than 6 hours after the fire, has a long police record of drunkenness and petty theft. His last arrest was Dec. 11 for drunkenness.

Charles Casad, 39, managing owner of the Thomas Hotel, said he tried to get rid of Gorman as a tenant 10 days ago by raising his rent from $7 a week to $14. The hotel's usual top rate is $10, with bath.

Airman Dies By Monoxide, Officials Say

A 28-year-old airman was found dead in his office at Lincoln Air Force Base early Friday, apparently the victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Base officials said A-1c Robert E. Gillham of Roger, Ohio, was found in his office in a warehouse by a fellow worker. A hose was found connected to the exhaust pipe of a military vehicle with the other end inserted into the door of Gillham's office.

Airman Gillham had been living at the base. His wife and two children, Debra, 6, and Donald, 4, live in Rockville, Conn., the base reported.

Officials said the investigation of the death would continue.

Castro Strengthens Firm Grip On Cuba

By Harold K. Mills

Havana (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro tightened his already firm military grip on Cuba Friday, sending troops into Catholic church buildings and other possible opposition centers.

Citizen soldiers occupied two Catholic schools and a church as strategic points.

Thousands of militiamen and militawomen increased their alert against what Castro pictures as a U.S. invasion due any moment.

News from other areas was almost blacked out, but it was understood frantic preparations were under way throughout the entire island to repel invaders from the North.

Men and guns swarmed around the luxurious Hotel Nacional, the Havana Riviera Hotel, historic Morro Castle and other places familiar to tourists.

Major Defense

Malecon Driving, running along Havana's seafont, has been chosen for major defense positions. Muzzle along the Malecon — antitank guns with protective shields and 4-barreled Czech anti-aircraft guns. Other guns top historic Principe Castle, long a city prison in the heart of Havana and now apparently a fortified command post.

San Francisco Church in downtown Havana, a Belen Catholic School and LaSalle Convent School have been chosen for gun sites and militia concentrations, for reasons not immediately clear.

Priests were told the buildings are considered strategic locations. After militiamen temporarily kept worshippers from entering, mass was allowed in the church.

The publishers of La Quincena, official Catholic biweekly magazine, said printing probably will be delayed because their offices and shop are on the grounds of San Francisco Church.

Tension

The capital shows signs of growing tension. Hundreds of Castro's young redoubts — teen-age supporters armed with Czech burp guns and bazookas — have moved into the city and quartered themselves in the Hotel Nacional and elsewhere.

Many are as young as 12. But they appear to have been trained extensively at mountain military schools.

Though these young rebels occupy the hotel, the National still flies the American flag in its garden along with the banners of other nations.

El Segundo, Calif. (UPI) — Five men, one a Los Angeles businessman who once cheated death on an African big game hunt, were killed when their twin-engine private plane crashed 50 feet from a busy freeway.

Richard Curtis Colyear, 49, Hollywood, board chairman of Colyear Motor Sales Co., was identified as among those injured fatally when the Beechcraft Bonanza struck a power line and crashed shortly after takeoff from Los Angeles International Airport.

Tough Fight For Obbink

pointed by the late Democratic Gov. Ralph Brooks.

His dismissal, by a Republican governor, resulted from a plane flight in which Robert Kennedy, brother of the Democratic President-elect, was a passenger.

Burney has declined to say whether he intends to use his considerable influence in the Legislature to attempt to block the appointment.

Communications both favorable and unfavorable to Obbink were distributed in the legislative chamber Friday.

Committee Chairman J. O. Peck of Columbus declined to comment on the matter, except to note that Obbink's nomination will be handled in the same manner as other Morrison appointments.

Other committee members:

Fern Hubbard, Omaha: "I shall be interested in having the factual information regarding his dismissal. The nature of those findings will determine my vote."

Kenneth Bowen, Red Cloud: "If he can properly explain his activities, I might consider confirmation. But I cannot unless he can satisfactorily explain the circumstances surrounding his removal."

Richard Marvel, Hastings: "I am not committing myself. All gubernatorial appointments should be thoroughly examined."

Sam Klaver, Omaha: "I want to listen and ask a few questions. Ordinarily, a governor has the right to make his own appointments unless something in my opinion does not fit him for the job."

George Gerdes, Alliance: "I haven't decided. I am not in a position to say at this time."

Marvin Lautenschlager, Grand Island: "I cannot form an opinion in advance of having the facts. A good decision must be based on facts."

Jules Burbach, Crofton: "I can't give a definite answer at this time. I wish to study the matter further, and find out what the Aeronautics Commission has to say."

Harold Striker, Rising City: "I want to reserve my comments until the matter comes before the committee."

Jack Romans, Ord: "I haven't made up my mind, and will wait and see what evidence the governor has in appointing him."

Edwin McHugh, Murdock: "I am now assembling my information. We shouldn't be hasty. I want more details and I would like to hear the testimony of both Obbink and Burney. Then, I'll make my decision."

Obbink Case Called Moot Question Now

The Nebraska Supreme Court will hear oral arguments Monday on a motion to dismiss the case of Jack Obbink, involving his status as aeronautics director under the previous administration.

Obbink has been renamed director by Gov. Frank Morrison and the case is now "moot," according to the motion filed by Joseph Ginsburg, Lincoln attorney representing Obbink.

Obbink was fired from the last 107 days of his term by former Gov. Burney. That term ended Thursday.

Obbink checked into his office Friday, but said he has not claimed he is director of aeronautics.

"I'm here at the direction of the governor," Obbink said. "I do what he tells me."

Asked about the restraining order entered against Obbink last Oct. 20, Ginsburg said he was sure there would be no legal complications on this point as Obbink is under a new administration and a new term.

Prices Shade Higher For Farm Goods

... Index At 257

Prices received by Nebraska farmers for the things they produce climbed a shade during the month ending in mid-December.

The Dec. 15 all commodity index stood at 257 points, up one point for the month, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Friday.

The 1910-14 period is the base period, carrying a price index of 100.

Price advances from mid-November for cattle, calves, sheep, corn and grain sorghum were almost totally offset by declines registered for hogs, lambs, eggs, hay, potatoes and dry beans, the division said.

Stock Mark Up

The livestock and livestock products index of 287 represented a climb of less than one point for the month, although it was 37 points higher than a year earlier. The all crops index of 175 also was up less than one point for the month, but down 7 points from mid-December of 1959.

Nebraska farmers at mid-December were receiving an average of $23.40 per hundredweight for cattle, up $1.60 for the year and up 90 cents for the month.

Hogs dropped 80 cents during the month to $15.70, but this still was $4.60 higher than the average a year earlier.

Sheep advanced $1.30 during the month to $5.50.

A bushel of corn in Nebraska brought an average of 87 cents on Dec. 15, compared with 86 cents a month earlier and 92 cents a year ago.

Wheat prices averaged $1.72 per bushel, unchanged from November but down 3 cents from December of 1959.

Oats and barley at 59 and 71 cents respectively both were up one cent for the month.

Grain sorghums at $1.25 per hundredweight were up two cents for the month but down 5 cents for the year.

Potato prices dropped 15 cents per hundredweight during the month, and dry edible beans brought 30 cents less.

SENTIMENTAL FAREWELL TO CONGRESS VOICED BY NIXON

Washington (AP) — In an unprecedented step, Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday expressed a sentimental farewell to Congress as he announced formally his own defeat for the presidency.

He also extended his best wishes to his successful opponent in the recent presidential elections, Democrat John F. Kennedy.

The Republican vice president spoke after presiding over the canvassing of the electoral vote by a joint session of Congress.

In filling the role, it was Nixon's duty to announce officially that Kennedy won 303 electoral votes to his own 219 and thus won the nation's highest office.

Nixon recalled that this was the first time in 100 years that a vice president, who under the Constitution is required to preside at the canvassing, had to announce his own defeat and the victory of his opponent.

"I don't think there could be a more striking or more eloquent" testimony, Nixon declared, to the strength of America's constitutional system.

Nixon referred to the situation in 1861, when Vice President John Breckinridge performed the same duty for Abraham Lincoln.

No matter how hard fought political campaigns may be or how close the election results, Nixon continued, "those who lose accept the verdict." And he said those who lose also accept those who win.

Nixon then recalled that it was almost 14 years to the day since he first entered government service as a freshman member of the House.

He called his service as House member, senator and vice president a great honor. And he said he wished to join in "heartfelt best wishes" to his colleagues of both parties "and to John F. Kennedy and to Lyndon B. Johnson."

Speaker Sam Rayburn who had sat at Nixon's side during the canvassing proceeding, grabbed the vice president's hand and simultaneously gave him a warm pat on the back. His audience of senators and House members rose and applauded him.

Jaycees Ask Backing For Mosquito Bill

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will seek support of the City Council and county board for a mosquito control bill before the Legislature.

John McElhaney, Dr. Gresham Yeager and Donn Davis will appear before the council Monday afternoon and the County Board Tuesday morning, asking a resolution of support.

McElhaney was in charge of drafting the bill developed by the Jaycees after a mosquito epidemic hit the area west of Lincoln late last summer.

The bill would give the city and county authority to conduct mosquito control programs without the necessity of setting up a special district.

Mother Of Five Saves Two From Blazing House

Omaha (AP) — A 20-year-old Omaha woman dashed into her burning home Friday afternoon to rescue two children sleeping in the bedroom.

Mrs. Leroy Boge, mother of 5 and expecting another child, scooped up the children and escaped through the flames which burned out the small frame house.

The children and mother escaped injury. Arson investigator Dan Mulcahy said the blaze apparently started under a baby bed. It was not determined what caused the fire.

Mrs. Boge was visiting at the home of a neighbor when her 3-year-old son, Dennis, came to tell her something was wrong at home. She saw the house in flames.

Mrs. Boge ran into the bedroom and carried the two-year-old and 11-months-old children to safety.

It's Last Dance

... De Gaulle Warns

Paris (AP) — President de Gaulle warned Frenchmen Friday that their vote in Sunday's referendum will be their last chance to solve the Algerian problem, explaining there is a risk world events will sweep it out of their hands.

"To reply with the negative for any reason whatever is to deny that the problem should ever be solved by France," he said. "To abstain is to choose sterility for France."

The president made his third and last television appeal for massive backing for Algerian self-determination while villagers in Algeria were already casting the first votes. For security reasons, the referendum runs 3 days in that North African territory.

A dozen bombs set off in Paris and Algiers underscored the tense atmosphere. A last-minute attempt to blow down Radio Algiers power lines before de Gaulle spoke was a failure.

About 30 million Frenchmen, including nearly 4 million Algerian Moslems, must decide whether they favor the setting up of an autonomous Algerian state and later political self-determination by the Algerians themselves.

There is no talk of an end to the 6-year Nationalist rebellion in the question put to them, but de Gaulle clearly implied that—if backed by the nation—he has a quick peace talks in mind.

Kimball Retains Oil Lead

Kimball — Though the record of successful completions of oil wells in Nebraska's Panhandle dropped off in 1960, it was still considered good with two out of every 5 drilled making producers.

Kimball County continued to lead the area in all departments. There were 250 wells drilled resulting in 66 producers and 184 dry holes. The producers included 13 new field discoveries.

At the end of the year, the drilling record stood at 1,075 producers and 1,446 dusters. Though a number of wells have been depleted, waterflood programs are boosting production in a number of larger fields.

Banner Second
Banner County ranked second, with 174 holes drilled and 54 producers. Cheyenne County had 43 producers of 146 drilled. Morrill County produced 27 wells of 68 tests.

Expansion of new fields on the southern border of the state in the McCook area helped to take up the slack in drilling further north. There were well over 900 starts filed with the Nebraska Oil and Gas Conservation Commission, making it a record year.

A new record for oil production in Nebraska is a virtual certainty with daily averages running well over 60,000 barrels.

Omaha First, Chicago 4th In Receipts

... Stock Market

Omaha — Final livestock market figures for 1960 show Omaha in first place and Chicago in 4th place in both salable and total receipts, President Harry B. Coffee of the Union Stock Yards said Friday.

Coffee cited these Department of Agriculture figures for cattle, hogs and sheep:

Salable Receipts
Omaha	4,852,108
St. Paul	4,618,086
St. Louis	4,221,029
Chicago	4,201,962
Sioux City	3,909,782
St. Joseph	2,502,818
Kansas City	2,352,619
Denver	1,935,743
Total Receipts
Omaha	6,170,567
St. Paul	5,621,427
St. Louis	4,450,708
Chicago	4,451,030
Sioux City	4,412,332
Kansas City	3,446,303
Denver	3,307,969
St. Joseph	3,207,747

Coffee explained that the salable receipts are those received by commission firms for sale. Total receipts include all livestock unloaded at the stockyards.

"Omaha is on top for the 6th straight year," he said. "I can see no reason it shouldn't continue to stay on top."

NFO Planning Membership Drive In State

Plans for a membership drive in Nebraska were discussed by members of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) at a district meeting held here Friday.

Harold Woodward of Bethany, Mo., national director of county activities, aided Nebraska NFO members in the development of plans to start membership drives in 31 Nebraska counties.

Ted Wilson of Weeping Water, state NFO president, reports a steady increase in membership among Nebraska farmers.

"We plan to continue membership meetings in southeastern Nebraska every day next week," said Wilson.

National NFO President Orel Lee Staley, who attended the "Farm Crisis" meeting called by President-elect John F. Kennedy, advised the Nebraska members of the NFO that he considered the meeting, "one where a lot of progress was made for agriculture."

Robbers May Have Bought Caps In City

Police reported Thursday that a salesman told them he may have sold 3 armed robbers stocking caps Monday morning.

According to the police report, the man said a customer came into the store where he works Monday at 10 a.m. and wanted to buy a stocking cap. He picked out a black cap and left.

About five minutes later, the report said, the customer returned and wanted two more of the caps. He told the salesman they were for two friends of his who wanted "to keep their ears warm."

The caps were the same type worn by three gunmen when they held up the Southside Market at 1921 So. 17th Wednesday night. The robbers were armed with .45 caliber automatics and escaped with over $250.

Police are still searching for the men and have sent several objects believed to have been dropped by the robbers to the FBI for study.

Farm Exports Not Cure-All, Says Meyers

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Special United States agricultural export programs are promoting foreign policy and show promise of giving some long range benefits. But they should not be looked upon as a cure-all for all the ills that affect agriculture today.

This was the caution expressed by the administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service, Dr. May Meyers, in an address to Nebraska Agriculture Experiment Station Workers Friday.

Dempsey McNeil of Holdrege, president of the Nebraska Assn. of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, told the workers conference, "A relaxation of soil and water conservation efforts to temporarily solve an agricultural surplus problem today would be comparable to sabotage against the America of tomorrow."

Net Income Stressed

The importance of net farm income was stressed by Dr. Everett E. Peterson, extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska, who explained to workers that farmers now buy over two-thirds of their production supplies from non-farm sources, compared to one-fourth in 1925.

For this reason he said, "net income is especially vulnerable to price declines or yield reductions."

Goals listed by Peterson to aid in agricultural adjustments were——A land retirement program which emphasizes land use changes and conservation by starting at the lower end of the productivity scale and working upward to an estimated 60 million acres.

—Continued research and education, especially on products and practices to reduce unit costs of production and to meet consumers' changing demands in the food line.

—Search for better ways to use agriculture abundance.

—Financial aid in moving and adjusting to new jobs or "homesteads in reverse."

NU Scholarship Is Established By Lincoln Firm

An unique scholarship for undergraduate students has been granted to the University of Nebraska by Clark and Enersen, Lincoln architectural firm.

Given through the University Foundation, the $1,000 scholarship will go biennially to a fourth or fifth year architecture student for foreign travel, Perry Branch, director-secretary of the Foundation, said today.

According to Prof. Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the department of architecture, the scholarship will be awarded on the basis of demonstrated talent, accomplishment and promise of success in the field.

The University, Prof. Smith said, now becomes one among very few schools in the United States that can periodically offer their talented undergraduates the chance to broaden their backgrounds through travel. "The grant is thus not only of direct benefit to the student, but also to the prestige of the University," he said.

Wilson To Ask Pardon Board For Clemency

A petition for clemency will be filed with the State Board of Pardons and Paroles on behalf of Luther Wesley Wilson, Wilson's attorney, Hal Bauer of Lincoln, said.

According to the attorney, the board will probably hold an emergency session Monday to decide on the petition.

Wilson is from Omaha. He is scheduled to be electrocuted Jan. 13 for the robbery-slaying of liquor store clerk Raymond Rasmussen in 1958. Bauer said if the board agrees to a hearing, the execution will be stayed 30 days. If the hearing is not granted, the electrocution date will remain unchanged.

Wilson will ask the board for commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

Morrison Leaves Uncertainties

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

People will have to wait awhile before making up their minds on where they stand with Gov. Frank B. Morrison. In his inaugural address, the governor made some specific recommendations which can be discussed but much of his speech was devoted to statements of principle or philosophy which will take on real meaning as his administration progresses. So far as inaugural addresses go, Morrison's would have to rank among the best of recent years.

But few inaugural remarks do or are expected to provide the basis for final judgment of any public official. They are meant primarily to serve as guidelines for the future and the new governor generally fit his address into this category. He spoke with confidence of the future of the state and its abundance of human and physical resources. He spoke constructively of the need for development and conservation of our natural resources, for improvement of higher education, for agricultural expansion and stability, for industrial development and for governmental reorganization.

There would be little disagreement with the principles he laid down to follow in dealing with these subjects but the real test will come with the application of these principles. It will come, first of all, when the new governor submits his budget. Statements of policy are fine but they are no substitute for funds to get the job done.

Some advance concern might be felt in this area because of the governor's conservative tax approach. He gave no indication whatsoever of what his thinking in tax matters might be — announcing a plan of study in the area of taxation. This is the most disappointing part of his address as nothing has been studied more than the state tax situation.

Perhaps Governor Morrison will be able to come up with something new but it would seem he would have to do so before he submits his budget and this leaves him little time in which to act. It would be impossible for him to back up his statements of principle on resources, education, agriculture, tourist growth, industrial expansion and others without increased state income. His proposed government reorganization appears to be sound in certain areas but it is not likely to save substantial amounts of money.

Therefore, he will face either an increased property tax or a change in the tax base.

Just A Little Myopic

Senator Thruston Morton, who expects to continue on a while longer as chairman of the Republican National Committee, looked back upon the recently closed presidential campaign and described the Democratic victory as a temporary setback for his party.

He saw in it no reasons why the Republican party should change its ways. All that is indicated is an improvement in its grass roots efforts.

This is an interesting expression and may be the real reason why the Republicans have such bad luck on national election day — a refusal to change, although times have changed, and the country also.

Sen. Morton should reflect upon the record. With the one exception of a windfall in the form of General Eisenhower, the Republican party has not elected a president since 1928 when Herbert Hoover made it. That is a period of 32 years which is a very, very long time in quadrennial politics. What's more they haven't a chance to elect another president until 1964, which makes the spread one of 36 years. A party which can do no better than that is in a hard way.

It is true that in that period of 32 years two terms were obtained by Mr. Eisenhower. And it is true that in the course of his political experience Mr. Eisenhower developed into a bonafide conservative Republican, albeit the country didn't. But it is also true that Mr. Eisenhower spent the greater part of his life as a military man, far removed from politics and until shortly before he was nominated he wasn't quite sure what party he belonged in. He, therefore, was a windfall candidate who maintained his hold on the hearts of America by virtue of his non-political service and not by any development within the framework of Republicanism.

Such men do not occur often enough to keep a party in business.

Wait For All The Facts

A special task force has recommended to President-elect John F. Kennedy that the incoming administration press for a high priority program to pump some $3.5 billions into national educational improvement.

This will bring a great hue and cry from a numerous element which oppose federal aid to education as a general term of which the details are of no importance.

There are an infinite number of ways in which federal aid to education can be proposed and some of the ways, no doubt, would be as predatory as these general critics fear. But there are other ways which would contain none of the vices so commonly attributed to federal aid programs. A mature view of the subject, then, should remain open minded until a specific program is offered. An objective analysis of the details would indicate whether such federal aid would be or not be predatory, or wasteful, or maldesigned for the end in view.

Certainly huge federal aid expenditures poured into public education only enlarging the institution without changing the direction and character of the subject matter to meet the necessities of this space age would be a bruising waste of money and a serious threat to national survival.

But the special task force's positive recommendation of a substantial federal aid activity indicates that the new administration means to go forward in the field of federal aid and the question of where the public stands will demand an answer. That being as it is, it would be an act of high citizenship to delay decision until the details have been presented. An examination of the specifics will yield the best answer.

China's Scientific Advance

From The Des Moines Register
China will soon be one of the world's "great powers" in science and scientists. This was made clear at a special symposium on science in China conducted at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Speakers on the symposium disclosed that in meteorology, mineralogy, physics—in almost every aspect of scientific endeavor—the Chinese are moving ahead at a breathtaking pace. The Chinese apparently have made significant advances in nuclear physics. They have at least four nuclear reactors designed for research. It seems likely that they will achieve an independent nuclear explosion before long.

In meteorology, the science of weather, the Chinese have jumped from well down the list to at least fourth place, right behind Canada.

Chinese mineralogists and geologists have been especially active in recent years. The Chinese have proved out vast deposits of iron ore, rivaling in quantity those anywhere else in the world. In addition, they have discovered and begun to exploit deposits of such vital metals as nickel, molybdenum (an important alloy metal) and ilmenite, an ore containing iron and titanium. China's already considerable reserves of coal have been augmented by additional proved reserves.

There is every evidence, too, that the Chinese are moving rapidly to exploit these resources, on the one hand through the primitive methods used for centuries, which are grossly inefficient but still effective; on the other hand, through the use of advanced technology imported from Russia.

It is possible that reports of China's scientific prowess are exaggerated just as the reports of fantastic agricultural gains circulated a year or so ago proved to be. But the West has learned that China cannot be sold short. Science has a long tradition, and is much revered and respected in China.

Mitchell-Nixon No Longer Friends

WASHINGTON—There are two members of the Eisenhower cabinet who scarcely speak to each other — Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell and Vice President Nixon.

Mitchell, who has chalked up one of the best recent records in the Labor department, had aspirations last year to become vice-presidential running mate on the Nixon ticket. A Catholic and a good friend of labor, it was believed Mitchell would pull some Catholic voters away from Kennedy.

To help Nixon, Mitchell went out of his way, during the steel strike one year ago, to bring Nixon in on the strike settlement. He made sure that Nixon was given full credit — possibly more credit than he deserved, because it was Mitchell who really acted as No. 1 mediator.

But when the time came for vice-presidential candidates to be considered in Chicago, Secretary Mitchell was not on Nixon's list. President Eisenhower favored Mitchell, but Nixon blacked him out entirely.

Today Mitchell and Nixon speak to each other on formal occasions. But they are quite formal.

Note — Mitchell's plan, which he unfolded to President Eisenhower the other day, is to run for governor of New Jersey. Mitchell has indicated he will run only if he is given financial backing and no primary opposition.

Sen. Barry Goldwater's

"keynote" speech at the National Women's Press Club dinner took place on the same day this column reported his paying $4,000 a month of GOP campaign committee money to an Arizona asthma spray concern whose president is the reported ghost writer for Goldwater's campaign oratory.

Goldwater's speech at the Women's Press Club sizzled with wisecracks. Remarked one Senate colleague: "I guess that ghost writer was really worth $4,000 a month."

Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma presented some alarming facts to the public on water pollution the other day.

"If most of you got an analysis of the water you drink, you would be shocked and uneasy," the Oklahoma senator told the National Conference on Water Pollution. "The results might drive you to drink — but not water."

Kerr, who drinks nothing stronger than grape juice, recalled that President Eisenhower had vetoed the anti-pollution bill aimed at cleaning up the rivers of America.

"Of course, Ike's need for pollution abatement is not as serious as that of the average citizen," said Kerr. "When he travels he takes his own water with him — in bottles. We ordinary folks can't do that. You can understand why Ike vetoed the bill."

GOP Indulges In Sober Reflection

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders agreed, prior to their election post mortem here this week end, to keep the lid on their hopes and fears for the future and their recriminations about the recent past.

Their intra-party truce plans include retention of Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky as national chairman, at least until May or June and possibly until the end of the present session of Congress.

The vice president and Mrs. Richard Nixon will contribute to the political and social ease of the occasion by absenting themselves entirely from the business sessions. Instead, they will entertain the national committee and state chairmen at a reception at the Columbia Country Club. It is hoped that the decision by the vice president not to address the visiting firemen will discourage admirers of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater from personalities and political claims in connection with the November 8 mishap.

The vice-president is intent on silence about his own plans until he actually ceases to be vice-president. The difficulty of finding just the right stance to produce both income and political dividends is an obvious one.

Thus the conference promises few headlines. Most Republicans, remembering those from a similar post mortem in 1949, will be appropriately grateful.

For publication, their remarks about the Nixon-Lodge campaign stress that it was a near miss and demonstrated the party vitality in a wide cross-section of the nation. They also profess to believe that the Kennedy administration cannot even come close to fulfilling its campaign promises.

The tone of private conversation among party leaders is much more astringent. They thought they could win against Kennedy and would do so, and their disappointment is keen. Many are putting much blame on the vice-president.

Their charge is that he ran a one-man show and would take advice only from his few personal aides rather than organization people in the states. This is not an unusual complaint against a presidential candidate, and it only becomes bitter when the said candidate loses the election. In victory, all is forgiven.

It does indicate that Nixon has some fence-mending to do among the pros who for so long backed him ardently and elbowed Governor Rockefeller out of his way.

There appears little change in the relative positions of Rockefeller and Goldwater within the party. Present conversations indicate that the pros think Goldwater is smashing but couldn't win a presidential election while Rockefeller, no hero he, just might put it over for them.

What they expect from President-elect John Kennedy is a cold, consistent effort to insure his re-election in 1964. They claim that the word is out to Democrats that only Kennedy is to be bipartisan in his appointments.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

I Would Be Like Jesus

Earthly pleasures vainly call me;
I would be like Jesus;
Nothing worldly shall enthrall me;
I would be like Jesus.
Be like Jesus, this my song,
In the home and in the throng;
Be like Jesus all day long!
I would be like Jesus.

He has broken every fetter,
I would be like Jesus;
That my soul may serve Him better,
I would be like Jesus.
Be like Jesus, this my song,
In the home and in the throng;
Be like Jesus all day long!
I would be like Jesus.

All the way from earth to Glory,
I would be like Jesus;
Telling o'er and o'er the story,
I would be like Jesus.
Be like Jesus, this my song,
In the home and in the throng;
Be like Jesus all day long!
I would be like Jesus.

That in Heaven He may meet me,
I would be like Jesus;
That his words, "Well done!" may greet me,
I would be like Jesus.
Be like Jesus, this my song,
In the home and in the throng;
Be like Jesus all day long!
I would be like Jesus.

Lovers of gospel hymns who have treasured through the years each new song-creation of James Rowe—gems like "Love Lifted Me" and "If I Could Hear My Mother Pray Again"—are very fond of this one.

For its writing, Mr. Rowe formed a partnership with B. D. Ackley, secretary and pianist for the famous evangelist William A. (Billy) Sunday and the tune which Mr. Ackley provided was an important factor in the success of the song.

Simmons' Stand

Deadwood, S.D.

Senator Ray Simmons seems to have waded into a veritable hornets' nest at Nebraska U. Professors at the College of Law are very well pleased with teaching hours of fewer than six a week. They certainly should be, as long as the taxpayers too are happy with the schedule.

Assuming a 40-hour week for these public servants, which is the working time all such servants seek carefully not to exceed, the law professors can spend 24 1/2 hours of "working" time each week in thinking about and planning for, with the help of paid assistants, instructing and teaching periods for the other 330 minutes of the work week. In other words, more than seven hours are expended, assistants helping therewith, in order to prepare a trained professor to conduct one hour of instruction or classroom discussion on a law question or problem.

To an outsider, but one who has been a student of the law for 40 years, it appears altogether right and reasonable to require a trained and experienced law professor to teach and instruct at least eight hours a week. This schedule would allow him four hours of thinking and planning, assistants helping, in preparation for 60 minutes of instructing and discussing in the classroom.

For the moment, Senator Simmons is no doubt an unpopular number with most of the law professors at Nebraska University. With the taxpayers, however, his standing should be enhanced. It requires more than a little courage these days to protest the waste of public funds in the field of education.

CHARLES R. HAYES

Cuban Vote

Omaha, Neb.

In 1898 the U.S. government intervened in Cuba and sent Theodore Roosevelt as commander of our forces to free the Cubans from oppressive Spanish rule. At that time if Cuba had been offered statehood and made a state of this Union, we would not now be facing the threat of communism's taking over within 90 miles of our border.

Now since communism has taken over under Castro, the people have lost their property, human rights and freedom. The courts of Cuba have been dissolved, the judges have fled the country and there is no constitutional government—only a military, Communist dictatorship.

The people of Cuba should be offered the choice and permitted to vote on whether they wish to become a sovereign state of the U.S.A. If the Cuban people should adopt this plan, a way could be provided to remove the threat of communism, restore peace to our nation, and President Kennedy and Congress could then provide the necessary means to free the people of Cuba from international communism and one-world government.

This is something for all the people to think about and especially our leaders in the government.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

As we review the results of the Christmas "Tree of Lights" campaign just completed, we are indeed grateful to the citizens of Lincoln who evidenced such a fine spirit of co-operation in making this year's appeal the greatest ever with a grand total of $7,424.14.

We are deeply indebted to The Star staff for publicizing the Christmas appeal. Christmas was an unforgettable day for many older lonely people, struggling families, men behind prison bars and eager youngsters whose faith was strengthened because of the wonderful support of all who participated in the campaign.

Plans are under way for the presentation of trophies to the four winning clubs and recognition will be given to each group who participated in the "Tree of Lights" effort.

Traffic Deaths

Howells, Neb.

Now suddenly it is reported to the public in a positive way about the traffic fatalities — 51 precious lives saved. Now when the ghastly show is over, they invert from the daily reports which stress the total of how many were killed.

I have devoted considerable effort to get the positive daily reports established for practical common-sense reasons. With drivers, one must employ psychology. Harp at them and they will justifiably balk. They know themselves to be good drivers, taken as a whole. They resent the implication that they are not doing willingly what is required to avert deaths on the highways.

But tell them periodically exactly how many lives they have saved and they will go out in high spirits and try to save more. It is a fact that as early as February, the few reporters who viewed the doings in a positive manner were certain that 1960 would be a life-saving year. It was the snow, some said. But the savings continued until the end of July.

By then these few writers ceased to buck the tide. The slaughter began and in the last five months, life-saving had ceased altogether. It was a pity that the new trend had to come to a halt. Already this year we have not saved one life in three days, the normal being 23 a month.

Good Neighbors

Lincoln, Neb.

Some folks complain they have no neighbors. Not so on 60th Street.

My husband was ailing for nearly three years, and bedfast the last 10 months. There were callers, help, cards, flowers and food from our good neighbors. His sisters and my family were with us the last five weeks and many days before that. Good neighbors from Greenwood called, also.

My dear husband passed away in October; then I was sick for five weeks. And the neighbors were again on the job. If one really wants true friends, he should live on 60th Street. My thanks and may God bless each and every one of them.

NU PROF. SEYLER FELLOW OF INTERNATIONAL ARTS, LETTERS INSTITUTE

One of the most coveted honors that can go to an artist has been conferred on David W. Seyler, associate professor of fine arts at the University of Nebraska.

Professor Seyler has been named a 1961 Fellow of the International Institute of Arts and Letters, a world-wide organization formed to give recognition to the highest creative talent.

The International committee, which limits recognition to only 87 living Fellows, listed Professor Seyler for 1961 with such men as Aldous Huxley, Thornton Wilder, William Saroyan and the great French painter, Marc Chagall.

The International committee awards honors on the basis of all past creative work rather than a specific work of art. Mr. Seyler's recent exhibition of sculpture, now on tour in Europe and receiving wide acclaim, has been credited as a substantial contribution to art and its influence is believed by art critics to have been a major factor in Seyler's recent honor.

Professor Seyler joined the University in 1948 and since that time has taught subjects in painting, composition, design, ceramics, lettering, drawing and sculpture. He also is a member of numerous art juries and consulting art committees.

Professor Seyler's works of sculpture and painting are on permanent exhibition in such places as the Syracuse Museum of Art, Cincinnati Art Museum, the Art Institute of Chicago and at the University of Chicago. Discounting those in private collections, his works are now shown in 11 permanent collections in the United States and Europe. He has also given many one-man shows and much of his work has been in traveling collections.

In 1959, the Board of Regents of the University approved a one-year leave of absence for Professor Seyler, who used a Woods Charitable Foundation fellowship to do research and creative work in bronze casting of sculpture in Florence, Italy. In addition to other work, Professor Seyler has been active in the design, layout and illustration of publications including Oliver Evans' "Young Man with a Screw Driver," and Grace Morton's "The Arts of Costume and Personal Appearance."

At the present time, Professor Seyler is doing sculpture and stained glass work for several churches, including the Methodist and Episcopal student centers at the University.

And the welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Ritzgen and their two children, three year-old Kimberly, and Scott who is eight months-old. Formerly living at 1828 So. 44th, their new address in the suburb is 827 El Avado Ave.

than one. First, the dates have been changed—The exhibit will open on Sunday, March 19, and close on Sunday, April 16. This has been done with the hope that the change of dates may coincide with balmy spring air, thus aiding and abetting devotees of art to step forward—to the Art Galleries in Morrill Hall—without fear of zero temperatures.

The second change in this season's show concerns the number of artists whose works will be exhibited. Heretofore an average of 100 artists have had their oils, their water colors, their sculpture, and various other mediums, on display. This year 30 artists will be shown, but the public will be able to see the broad scope in the work of each of the 30, since each artist will be represented three or four times.

—But now back to January and some very pleasant activity.

On the calendar for Saturday evening is the meeting of a dinner club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorne.

—Then we heard that the Longshot Club will be the supper guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Marshall on Sunday. We're guessing that during the evening there will be considerable conversation and that it will be dominated by a very interesting topic—money.

The Longshot Club, you see, is an amateur investment group that meets once each month to decide which move to make on the Big Board. Included in the club's membership, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Marshall, are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cathers, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmadeke, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Van Ashmun and Dr. and Mrs. Duane Hunt.

—An Hawaiian luau is on the books for Saturday evening, Jan. 14, when Mr. and Mrs. George W. Knight will be a host and hostess at their home. Mrs. Knight is just back from Hawaii where she spent several days as the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seifert and their family.

Following the luau Mrs. Knight will show films of the Islands.

—Someone told us that Mr. and Mrs. John A. Coover returned home from Ocean-side, Calif., earlier this week. Mr. and Mrs. Coover were the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John Coover (Barbara Hicks) and their 10-months-old daughter, Catherine.

Service Circles Greet The New Year

BY GERI ROBERTS

A new year—a new slate! Here's a little thought should you care to add it to your list of resolutions. "For all your days prepare, And meet them each alike; When you are the anvil, 'bear'—When you are the hammer, 'strike'."

Friends of Dawn Greene, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Donald I. Greene, gathered at the Greene home to wish Dawn good luck as she "strikes" out to make a new life for herself in the Navy. Amidst lots of coke and canasta Dawn told of her plans which include ten weeks of basic training in Bainbridge, Md.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Miller spent a good part of the New Year's Day at the train depot. Daughter Billie Jean returned to Eau Claire College in Wisconsin and Mrs. L. W. Kurth, Mrs. Miller's mother, left for Neillsville, Wis.

Farewell to more Wisconsinites from the quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Darrell Gallenberger. Guests were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gallenberger from Green Bay, and his niece, Ann Marie Peck of Oshkosh.

An egg nog party for 31 people helped entertain visitors at the Capt. Lynn D. Johnson house. Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Billie Peck is from Houston, Tex., and her sister, Mrs. Sue Stuart and son, Johnny, are from Oklahoma City, Okla.

Capt. and Mrs. Arnold E. Nollenberg found that the holidays brought not only familiar greetings but also familiar faces from Bartlesville, Okla. Sharon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Crews, her brother, Alan, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Crews.

Arriving in time to help Maj. and Mrs. Luther Smith celebrate his recent promotion with an open house for the members of the 98th Air Refueling Squadron, was his mother, Mrs. Vera Smith of Dallas, Tex.

Maj. and Mrs. C. P. Scott and daughters have returned from Osceola, Iowa, where they visited family and friends. M/Sgt. and Mrs. John E. Watkins and children journeyed to Sarnia, Ontario, Canada to help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Somes observe their 40th wedding anniversary.

Capt. and Mrs. Clifford Bilek and their sons spent five days with Carol's mother Mrs. Verna Gross in Torrington, Wyo. M/Sgt. and Mrs. William Lambert took advantage of the unseasonal weather to return to Rapid City, S.D. and visit friends they met when Capt. Bilek was stationed there.

Speaking of the weather, when winter's first icy blast did arrive it seemed only to add fuel to the warmth of friendship being extended by LAFB hosts and hostesses.

Ten couples met at the home of Maj. and Mrs. Robert Hansen to recount tales of 1960 and predict new ones for 1961. Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gerald Linscheid entertained 30 persons at open house as did Maj. and Mrs. John M. Parker.

Col. and Mrs. William Bartlett were joined by the residents of Wilkins Terrace for a neighborhood party. Capt. and Mrs. Al Merrell gave a party which started New Year's Eve with hors d'oeuvres and ended New Year's morning with a lovely breakfast.

Another group of friends who feel that "rolling stones gather no moss" held a progressive dinner commencing with canapés at the Major Robert Dorothy home. Next came the salad at the home of Maj. and Mrs. C. P. Scott; dinner with Capt. and Mrs. Les Walrath and finally dessert at the Major Bruce Mills quarters. A nice way to say "Welcome 1961."

Dear Abby— Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am a snoop person, but I see canned dog food in my sister-in-law's cupboards and they don't have a dog. She feeds my brother lots of hamburger, chili, stews and meatloafs and I am wondering if maybe she isn't using some of this canned horsemeat in her cooking.

My brother hasn't looked well lately, so if she is using that stuff on him, could it do him any harm?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: While dog food was not meant for human consumption, many have eaten it (accidentally) and suffered no ill effects. The next time you spy dog food at your sister-in-law's, ask her who the lucky dog is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and can't let any boys come to my house because there's no place for them to sit. You see, my father has been in poor health for a long time and now he is home all the time. He sits in the living room watching TV from the time he gets up until he goes to bed. That's Daddy's only pastime.

We don't have a dining room or den. Mamma sews in the kitchen at night and uses the table to cut patterns.

I don't want to start slipping around to meet boys on street corners like some girls I know. What should I do? Sign me,

DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Perhaps your mother could cut her patterns in the bedroom one night a week? Or your family could save up and buy a portable TV for Daddy's bedroom. It's very important for a girl your age to entertain her friends at home. Your parents will cooperate when they understand your problem.

DEAR ABBY: I have a slight hearing defect. At times I am unable to hear the telephone at the first ring. My fellow employees treat me like a deaf person. They shout when they talk to me. And when they come up behind me they tap me on the shoulder instead of calling me by name.

This is very unnecessary and is becoming most annoying. I like these people otherwise. How can I let them know how I feel?

CAN HEAR

DEAR CAN: Confide in the person with whom you are friendliest at your place of work. Tell her (or him) that you would appreciate it if the word were passed around that your hearing is only slightly defective. By the way, have you visited a specialist in this field lately? You would be wise to try to solve your problem at its source.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOW OR NEVER": It isn't possible to answer all letters in the paper. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I will send you a personal reply.

1♣ 1♥ 1♠ 2♥

Opening lead—queen of hearts.

Good defense sometimes, requires delicate teamwork, as witness this hand where South was in four spades.

West led the queen of hearts, East playing the seven. Now it is true that in most leagues the play of a seven is a signal to come on, and many West players would undoubtedly continue with a heart.

But this would have been a fatal error in the present case because, after drawing trumps, declarer would simply force out the ace of clubs and wind up losing a heart, a diamond, and a club to make the contract.

Instead, West led the jack of diamonds at trick two, realizing that East had played the lowest heart possible (the 6-5-4-3-2 were all in plain sight). West properly assumed that if East had wanted a heart continuation, he would have played a higher card than the seven.

Declarer finessed the diamond and lost to the king. East recognizing the danger that a heart lead might be ruffed by South, returned the nine of diamonds. East had to play on the basis that West had the ace of clubs, and it was therefore important to try to establish the setting trick in diamonds.

Declarer won with the ace, drew two rounds of trumps, and played a club. West took the ace and now had to decide whether to lead a heart or a diamond.

Had he played a heart in the hope that South had another heart loser—West could not be sure East had overcalled with a six-card suit—declared would have made the hand.

But West led the ten of diamonds and thus defeated the contract. It was by no means just a lucky shot. He relied on East's return of the nine of diamonds, which indicated clearly that declarer had started with at least three diamonds.

By convention, if East had started with four diamonds, he would have been obliged to return his fourth best diamond in order to identify his length. Since East had returned the nine, he was bound to have less than four diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Dole of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, left a few days ago to return to their home after spending the holidays as the guests of Mrs. Dole's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis.

Planning a trip to Florida later this month are Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dubinsky. Mr. and Mrs. Dubinsky will go to Miami where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Rodenberg and their grandson, Richard. The trip, however, is especially to welcome a very young granddaughter, Janice Beth, who arrived in December. Mrs. Rodenberg is the former Joyce Dubinsky.

A recent holiday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Easton was their son, Harry K. Easton, Jr., of St. Louis. Mr. Easton, who received his Bachelor and Masters Degrees from the University of Nebraska, is now associated with the Ford Foundation in St. Louis and as a counselor with the Board of Education.

Thailand Warns Laos, 'Could Get Out Of Hand'

Bangkok, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat expressed concern Friday over what he called Western uncertainty in the Laos crisis. He declared the situation soon could get "completely out of hand."

His criticism seemed aimed at the council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, which met briefly at its Bangkok headquarters for the third time to discuss the Laos situation, then issued no statement.

Sarit, who returned to this capital from a seaside resort where he had been recuperating from influenza, expressed his concern at a news conference.

Indecision

The prime minister said that continued indecision of the West over Laos may allow Thailand's neighbor to slip off into a position where it cannot be saved.

However, Sarit later told the Thai people the situation in Laos is "serious but not critical." His statement added: "Many countries are trying to solve the situation and Thailand hopes they are successful."

The feeling of tense urgency which prevailed in SEATO headquarters here all week appeared to be dissipating.

Some sources said this was apparently due to growing realization that SEATO will not be asked to supply military forces to halt Communist advances in Laos — at least until some other methods of restoring at least the uneasy calm have been tried.

Others said the United States apparently has stopped pushing its claim that the Communists have intervened with manpower as well as equipment.

The United States has told friendly nations it is willing to accept a broader based non-Communist government in Laos, including former premier Souvanna Phouma, provided the move is acceptable to King Savang Vatthana.

Top U.S. officials made this known Friday after the Soviet Union reportedly turned down a British peace formula. This would have called for Soviet recognition of the newly invested pro-Western government of Premier Boun Oum.

The Soviet Union has contended that neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who fled the country Dec. 1, still represents the legal government because he has never resigned as premier.

Soviet arms supplies, airlifted in increasing amounts to pro-Communist forces fighting in Laos, have been justified on grounds the airlift was authorized by Souvanna Phouma.

The new U.S. move would remove the Soviet legal contention if Souvanna Phouma joins the Boun Oum cabinet. It is realized here that any move to bring Souvanna Phouma into the present government is a matter for the Laotian king and his present premier to decide.

New Bill Seeks Liberalization Of Watershed Area

A bill broadening the coverage of a law allowing formation of watershed districts was introduced Friday in the Legislature.

Present law permits formation of such districts only in areas where a primary city is located. Lincoln is the state's only primary class city.

The measure, LB110, would remove this limitation and allow districts to be created outside.

Chief introducer Sen. J. O. Peck of Columbus is interested in the possible formation of a Shell Creek Watershed.

Other introducers of the bill were Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora, Theodore McCosh of Gering, H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove and Peter Clausen of Leigh.

One of the most critical problems for Minnesota pioneers was to get iron strong enough to build the plowshares that would turn the tough prairie soil.

HEAD OF HEALTH BOARD PLANS STAFF CHANGES

Dr. Maurice D. Frazer, chairman of the State Board of Health, announced Friday he would recommend 3 assistant directors be created to begin overall reorganization of the department.

Department personnel would be advanced to these positions and responsibility more clearly established, he said. The health board will meet Monday.

Dr. Frazer also said that Leonard L. Larson, public relations consultant, has submitted his resignation from the temporary post.

Objective Accomplished
Larson informed the board that "the overall objective had been accomplished of forming a Citizens Advisory Health Council of 400 doctors and laymen interested in health matters and of making recommendations for reorganization of the department."

Dr. Frazer said he was "pleased and gratified" with the work performed by Larson.

The department, under the directorship of Dr. E. A. Rogers, has approximately a dozen divisions, each headed by a chief.

Dr. Frazer said the board is encouraged by acknowledgement of our "drought" by former Gov. Burney and are confident that Gov. Morrison and the Legislature will be even more attentive to our conditions when they have factual data to study and consider.

The Lincoln chairman said the board "has many months of work ahead" in the study of recommendations by Larson and the U.S. Public Health Service and "putting these new tools to work."

He said the board plans to make more activities self-supporting through fees and other efficiency moves that will save tax dollars.

which was appointed by the late Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Each crumb

...is precious but who among us needs the whole loaf?
Bread is vital but perhaps we should NOT live only to eat.
We are invited to break the bread as Jesus broke it and the Great Baker stored the earth with plenty for all. Woe be it to the selfish hand who holds the knife and cuts the slices thin. We are told to beware of him who withholds corn, for the people shall curse him. Our body is of the earth and must be fed from the earth.
But the soul is of Heaven and must be fed with Heavenly bread. Then let us worship in church this week and pray to God to, "Give us

this day our daily bread."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination
for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES AND SYNAGOGUES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION THE TRANS-FORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS AND RABBIS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS
AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST
ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . . TO ATTEND CHURCH OR SYNAGOGUE.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Mark Twain rephrased it this way: "The lack of money is the root of all evil."

Do, the first of the Do-Re-Mi musical scales, was invented by and named for G. B. Donni (Don-ni) who died in 1763. He was an authority on music of the ancients.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. ## Akin's Basket Decides 35-34 For Southeast

... LHS DOMINATES FIRST HALF

By Al Beebe

There were 4,000 fans at the Lincoln High-Lincoln Southeast game in the PSA Building Friday night. A few probably went home after the Links-dominated first half.

If so, they may be amazed to learn that Southeast pulled out a 35-34 victory on Rick Akin's basket with 11 seconds to play.

Southeast had missed long field shots most of the night, but Akin got his from beyond the free throw circle when it really counted.

The 5-10 senior guard also capped a 3rd period rally with 6 straight points which put the Knights ahead for the first time after trailing by 15 in the first half.

Both teams were erratic in this contest, which kept SE in the running for a second straight city title. But the Links were a shade poorer in the second half than Southeast was before intermission.

LHS Ahead 18-3

Southeast scored first, but then went nearly 8 minutes without a point while Lincoln got 13. The Links made it 18-3, but SE cut it to 20-12 at the half.

At that point, Lincoln had a fine shooting percentage on 8 for 19, but hadn't scored often enough — it turned out. SE hit only 4 of 31 field shots in the first half.

The statistics reveal the second half story. The Knights gave up trying to shoot over Lincoln's zone, which had effectively bottled up ace Jack Cramer.

The result was only 18 field shots for SE in the second half, but the Knights hit 8 of them.

Links Frigid

Lincoln High turned frigid, making only 5 of 24 after the break.

With Cramer hitting 3 buckets, and Akin adding the last 6 points, SE nabbed a 27-24 lead after 3 quarters. Bobby Williams, Lincoln's only consistent shooter and the game's top scorer, got the only LHS basket of the canto.

SE built its lead to 31-26, but Williams and Jim Strain hit baskets to cut the margin. Knight Mike Willis countered with a fielder.

LHS then hit on 2 of 5 free throws, and finally went ahead on Williams' basket with 1:15 to play, then got the ball back after an SE shot missed.

But with 34 seconds to play, Lincoln sophomore Bob Vaughn missed a free throw. Cramer got the rebound, and Akin hit the big one. A double dribble ruined Lincoln's final 11-second hope.

Williams counted 18 points for the Links, while Akin and Cramer both had 10 for SE. The Knights are now 2-3 for the year, with Southeast even at 2-2.

MIDLAND ROMPS

Wayne (A) — Midland grabbed a 41-33 halftime lead Friday night and smashed Wayne State's basketball club 82-63.

Dennie Groves led the fast Warrior attack with 29 points, his best output of the season. Ron Marcellus fired 20 for Wayne.

North-South Match Big Lines, Passers

Mobile, Ala. (AP) — Stout lines and able passers will perform in today's 12th annual Senior Bowl football game. The All-Star game marks the professional debut of 50 top-notch collegians, most of whom already have signed pro contracts.

The South, coached by Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts, is a 5-point favorite over coach Jim Lee Howell's Northerners. The weather outlook is for mostly cloudy with temperatures near 60 and southeasterly winds of less than 15 miles per hour.

Attendance of between 38,000 and 40,000 is forecast for the 2:30 p.m., CST, kickoff. The game will be televised nationally by NBC, with a 100-mile blackout in the Mobile area.

Both Ewbank and Howell, retiring coach of the New York Giants, said they have good solid squads. Ewbank said he felt his team was considerably stronger than his last year's Rebel array, which lost to Howell's Northerners 26-7.

But the little Colt coach wasn't happy about having his charges installed as a favorite. "They're just as big as we are and their personnel is certainly as good as ours," he said. "I can't see why they keep making the South the favorite."

The North squad has a slight weight advantage. The Yankees average 220 in the line to 218 for the Southerners and 209 in the backfield to 205.

With one exception, both squads were pronounced in excellent condition. The exception was Washington back Don McKeta, who suffered an ankle injury in the Rose Bowl game.

Quarterback Dick Norman of Stanford, throwing, and Minnesota fullback Roger Hagberg, rushing, are expected to provide the main offensive punch for the North.

Their counterparts for the South are Norman Sneed, the Wake Forest quarterback, and Ed Syas, Auburn fullback who set an NCAA record of 13 field goals this season.

E. J. Holub, the 225-pounder from Texas Tech, will play offensive center for the South and man the middle linebacker post on defense.

Carl Kammerer, a 6-3, 242-pound tackle from College of Pacific, will handle the North middle linebacking.

Norman was elected North offensive captain and Kammerer the defensive captain. Nebraska tackle Roland McDole, who'll wear jersey No. 70 for the TV fans, will start for the North on defense.

Pittsburgh (A)—Is North Carolina next? A year ago the Big Red of Oklahoma was placed on indefinite probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Sooners still are there. Indiana and Kansas since have joined the list which also includes Auburn, Montana State College and Arizona State University.

It is known the North Carolina Tar Heels have been under investigation for basketball recruiting practices. Coach Frank McGuire has gained renown with his teams loaded with northern imports.

The powerful NCAA council meets today and Sunday. By Monday night it should be ready to announce if any more colleges have been found guilty of violating the NCAA code.

Southern California and Tulsa are scheduled to be restored to good graces during the NCAA's annual convention which opens officially Monday after a weekend of preliminary meetings.

If North Carolina is found innocent, there will be no announcement, but if found guilty, the 6th-ranked Tar Heels may be denied an opportunity to compete for the NCAA championship.

McGuire's unbeaten 1957 team won 32 games, including the NCAA title, 54-53 over Kansas in triple overtime.

Echoes of that battle were heard last October when the NCAA found Kansas guilty because 1957-58 A-1-A America Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain received a car in violation of

—OFFENSIVE SLOWED— NE Rips Hastings

... 58-32 SLAUGHTER

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings—A full court press from start to finish and a deliberate offense gave the Lincoln Northeast Rockets a 58-32 victory over a tall Hastings team here Friday night in a Mid-East Conference game.

The full court press forced the Tigers into 18 violations and slowed the Hastings big men down enough to give the Rockets a rebounding edge of 36 to 28.

The slower offense, unlike the usual Rocket attack, gave the visitors better shots from the field.

Calm & Cool In all the Lincolinites played calm, cool and collected, hitting 21 of 51 shots from the field for 41 per cent.

Dave Lebsack put the Rockets in orbit in the first quarter with two long shots before the Tigers could score. Northeast scored 6 more after Wayne Weber potted two charity tosses for Hastings.

Hastings got its first field goal of the contest when Bill Kendall hit with 1:47 left in the first quarter which ended 10-7.

Tigers In Running

Al Motley then put the Tigers in the running with a jumper to start the second period only to see the visitors connect for 10 straight points, 6 by Earl Wright.

With 2:50 left in the half Al Reiners got the first Tiger basket in 5 minutes to make the score 20-11 but hot shooting Wright came right back to match Reiners' basket with 3 of his own and the half ended with the visitors leading by 13 points.

The second half went in much the same fashion as the first as baskets by Wright and Warren Lyon stretched the lead to 17.

20-Point Lead

With 4:08 seconds left in the 3rd period Northeast took a 20 point lead and romped in. Wright took scoring honors with 17 points for Northeast and Weber hit 9 for the losers.

Tonight the Rockets host Omaha Westside in an inter-city clash starting at 8:00 p.m.

Wesleyan, Peru Open NCC Play

Nebraska Wesleyan opens defense of its Nebraska College Conference basketball championship tonight at 7:30 against Peru on the Wesleyan court.

Both clubs have identical 4-4 records, but Wesleyan has won 3 of its last 4 games, while Peru has lost 3 of its last 4.

Both teams lost in the finals of their respective holiday basketball tournaments. Wesleyan was dropped by Colorado College and Peru by tough Anderson College of Indiana.

Coach Irv Peterson of Wesleyan indicated that his team hasn't been shooting well since last week's tournament. The Plainsmen have scored at a 69.4 per game clip. Peru has a 78.1 average.

Jim Munford and Dennis Semin led the Plainsmen in the holiday tourney. Munford was 3rd high scorer with 41 points.

Peru's Bob Buettgenbach tallied 55 points in two games last week. The 6-8 pivot has a 19.4 per game average.

Peru leads in the series with Nebraska Wesleyan 44-33 in a rivalry dating back to 1907.

Senior, Runnerup Bowl Games On Slate Today

Browns, Lions Set Precedent For NFL

... CLEVELAND 5-POINT PICK

Miami, Fla. (A)—The Cleveland Browns and the Detroit Lions meet today in a football game in the Orange Bowl that will set some precedents.

The kickoff is scheduled at 1 p.m. (CST) and the game will be televised nationally over the CBS network.

It will mark the first time the runnerup in the Eastern Division (Browns) of the National Football League has met the Western Division second-place team in what amounts to a battle for 3rd place.

It will be the first time a pro game has been a part of a bowl program which customarily is confined to amateur competition.

Eyes Franchise Miami also is putting its hopes of some day landing an NFL franchise on the line. A good attendance will enhance the chances, and vice versa.

Pete Rozelle, NFL president, said he would consider the game a success if it drew a crowd of 40,000.

Orange Bowl officials optimistically are predicting 50,000, but the general idea is that 35,000 to 40,000 will be a more accurate figure. A Baltimore Colt-Pittsburgh Steeler exhibition here last Sept. 2 drew 39,000 in unfavorable weather.

As an incentive for the players to put forth their best efforts, players on the winning team will get $600 each and the losers $400, with $500 for everybody in case of a tie.

Minor Factor However, the financial inducement is a minor factor. As Bill Howton, Dallas end who is president of the NFL players' association, said: "Once the men get out there they play to win, no matter what the stakes. That's the only way they know how to play."

The players' pension fund will be the major beneficiary, with 65 per cent of the net proceeds going in that direction.

Browns Picked The Browns are rated a 5-point favorite, although the Lions finished their season strongly and have a 7-1 edge over Cleveland in league competition over the years, and a 10-5-1 edge in exhibition games.

Both clubs have taken their preparation seriously, coach Paul Brown of the Browns even banning golf for his athletes.

Hilton said the seating capacity of the stadium could be increased to 30,000 if the wall and fence were eliminated. Total cost of the additional seats and dressing rooms was estimated at $500,000.

Henke carries a 24.6 average into tonight's game while Scott brings in a 16.0 mark.

Walt Grebing (6-5) and Ron Cox (6-4) or Lyle Houston (6-5) give 6-7 Henke support in the vital rebounding phase.

Ken Doughty (6-0) backs up Scott at guard.

Clarksburg, Tenn. (A)—A high school basketball player, Danny Boyd, scored 104 points Friday night as his Camden team defeated Clarksburg 130-43.

The total is 24 points higher than the recognized Tennessee record. Losing coach Jack Golden said he put all 5 of his players on Boyd, about 6-0, "but he just didn't miss."

Chargers May Move Franchise

San Diego, Calif. (A)—Baron Hilton said Friday he would transfer his Los Angeles Charger franchise in the American Football League to San Diego this year, provided his proposal is met by the city.

The hotelman and Charger owner, meeting with Mayor Charles Dail, disclosed the various problems which must be resolved if a move is to take place.

They dealt mainly with preparing Balboa Stadium for a major league professional football and translating public enthusiasm into season ticket sales.

Huskers Host Mizzou; Kowalke Not Available

... TIGERS TOUGH OPENING LEAGUE FOE

By Bob McCoy

Nebraska's hopes for a flying start in the Big 8 Conference basketball race may have been left on the runway.

Coach Jerry Bush announced Friday senior Jim Kowalke, the Huskers' top scorer and No. 2 rebounder, won't be available for Nebraska's two home games this weekend.

Kowalke suffered a badly sprained ankle in NU's final game in the Big 8 pre-season tourney at Kansas City and hasn't been able to run this week.

The Huskers, fresh from a surprise 5th place finish in Kansas City, open tonight against Missouri, then host Colorado Monday.

Missouri wound up 8th in the Kaycee festival, Colorado 7th. According to Bush and other Big 8 experts, neither finish was indicative of the power of the two teams. Coach Sparky Stalcup's Mizzou Tigers boast the league's top 1-2 scoring punch in center Charlie Henke and guard Joe Scott.

Henke carries a 24.6 average into tonight's game while Scott brings in a 16.0 mark.

Morrison Meets Department Heads, Checks On Highways

Gov. Frank B. Morrison plunged into state business Friday during his first full day in office.

Mixed in with calls from well-wishers were a conference with department heads he has appointed and a talk with Thane Davis of Hyannis, a highway commission member.

Morrison said he is already inquiring into the Department of Roads, but said this does not imply that anything is wrong.

His main interest is the efficiency of the department and expediting of construction, especially on the Interstate Highway.

He noted Nebraska is lagging behind other states, but added: "I think we've made some progress the last few months."

His conference with department heads, he said, was mainly to "fill them in on my attitude."

Absent were the heads of two departments—Roads and Veterans Affairs—for which Morrison hasn't named his choices. He said he didn't know how soon he will decide.

He lunched with a long-time friend from Redding, Pa., Manfred O. Lee, president of Vanity Fair Mills, and the firm's vice president, Ward Osterberg of Monroeville, Ala.

Also invited were David Oshertout, head of the Nebraska Resources Division, and Nathan Gold of the State Resources Committee.

Morrison said Lee has made a study of industrial development from the company's point of view in conjunction with the firm's relocating its mills in the South, and his views would be valuable for Nebraska.

The Democrat said he wouldn't make as many appearances as he would like during the first 6 months because he wants to give as much time as possible to state business.

He will concentrate on his budget message for the next few days with hopes of delivering it next week.

He said the transition into the governor's office was smoothed by the cooperation of outgoing Gov. Dwight Burney and his staff.

Morrison, still glowing after the inauguration ball, said he was impressed by the sincerity of the people and their enthusiasm for the future and by the response of the Legislators to his proposed program.

Las Vegas, Nev. (UPI) — An American Legion committee announced its selection of this desert gambling center as the site for the 1962 Legion convention, with its recommendation tantamount to approval.

would vote on the recommendation May 2-3 in Indianapolis.

Detroit originally was selected as site of next years convention but lost the gathering when it was unable to guarantee 7,000 first class rooms.

Neckties, Jewels Ordered Off Until Lumumba Freed

Leopoldville, Congo (UPI) — The local government in Stanleyville Friday ordered the population to stop wearing neckties and bracelets until jailed former premier Patrice Lumumba is released.

The order was expected to cause little hardship in the Lumumba stronghold since only government ministers wear neckties and women rarely adorn themselves with bracelets.

Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu's security chief, Gilbert Pongo, who was captured last Sunday by Lumumba supporters while leading an attack on Bukavu in Kivu Province issued an appeal for Lumumba's release from his jail cell.

Pongo, who spoke over Stanleyville radio and also cabled the appeal to President Joseph Kasavubu called Mobutu a "colonialist intriguer."

Pongo apparently led the abortive attack on Bukavu without Mobutu's permission.

Board Members Flatly Oppose Governor's Plan

By Virgil Falloon
The Board of Control's bipartisan membership Friday was unanimously opposed to Gov. Morrison's proposal to abolish the board.
Board Chairman Charles Leeman, one of the two Democratic members, flatly declared there's "nothing wrong with the Board of Control."
"Maybe its membership can be criticized, but there's nothing wrong with the system," he said. "I don't feel a non-salaried, part-time advisory board of state institutions would be worthy anything to the State of Nebraska."
In his inaugural address, Morrison advocated the board be abolished in favor of a board of state institutions, which would function like a school board, and separation of the department of public welfare.

Peterson Cites Progress
Harold Peterson, Republican member, said that "all state institutions and programs under the Board of Control have made steady progress and development under the present management system."
"Before any changes are made," Peterson cautioned, "the proposal should be carefully gone into to determine what advantages, if any, would result to the various institutions and boards under our charge."
Peterson also suggested Morrison shows some inconsistency in his inaugural proposals.
He noted the governor proposes to make the State Highway Advisory Commission into an executive-type board for the highway department while conversely proposing that the Board of Control, which functions full-time with administrative powers, become an advisory-type board over state institutions.

Mrs. Kirwin Opposed
Mrs. Ethel Kirwin, the second Democratic member, said her desire was to "cooperate with Gov. Morrison on any program that would benefit the Nebraska people, but there has been no proposal made to which I would give favorable consideration."
"No proposal has been made that could be supported by a majority of the legislators," she said, "or would be a desirable replacement for the Board of Control system."
All 3 members were agreed that control over the state institutions and the public welfare program should not be separated.
Separation of these two interrelated programs, they agreed, would result in confusing and cumbersome liaison work between the agencies.
They noted states which had separated these functions have reunited them, or else the divisions, themselves, are by necessity functioning together in actual practice.
Regarding any increase in board membership, Peterson thought 3 was a "workable" number while Leeman saw no objections to perhaps 5 members.

Woman Hurt In Car-Truck Crash
Mrs. LaDonna Qualls of 6602 Platte was listed in satisfactory condition at a local hospital with injuries suffered Friday morning in a car-pickup truck accident at 56th and Havelock.
The Safety Patrol said Mrs. Qualls, 28, suffered cuts and bruises when a car driven by her husband, James, 28, was involved in a head-on collision with a pickup truck driven by Henry Calcaterra, 45, of 2629 So. 15th.
Qualls was westbound and Calcaterra was eastbound and attempting a left turn when the mishap occurred, the patrol reported.
Bad Pigeon
Greenville, S.C. (UPI) — A pigeon caused a major power failure that knocked a radio station off the air for 45 minutes. The bird flew into a transformer, causing a short circuit that knocked out power in a two-block area.

Petitions Pile Up For City Council Jobs

Two more Lincolmites took out petitions and another officially filed for City Council Friday, according to the Election Commissioner's office.
S. Roy Warner and Randolph Horsley announced their intentions to seek election to the Council next spring.
Warner, 69, a motion picture projectionist, said he was planning to file because, "I am interested in good civic government."
Warner is married and lives at 1834 Pepper Ave.
Horsley, 55, president of Mir-O-Lite Inc. of 240 No. 10th, said, "I am interested in the recreational development in southeast Lincoln and the many other local developments coming up in the next few years."
Horsley is married and resides at 4545 Normal Blvd.
Joe O'Donnell, 33, manager of Erickson Service Station, officially filed for the Council Friday.
O'Donnell, who lives at 1036 No. 69th, is married and has 3 children.
